

PROFILES OF IN-SERVICE SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

| MINISTRY OF SUSTAINABILITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT |                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| S/N                                            | Name and Age                                                                                                           | Course and University                                                                                                 | Profile                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 1                                                     | Lee Min Jie            | Sustainable and Green Finance (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore | Min Jie is a Senior Assistant Director in the Water &amp; Food Policy Division, MSE, where she works on food policies that help secure Singapore's supply of safe food. Pursuing a Master of Science in Sustainable and Green Finance at the National University of Singapore, she hopes to deepen her understanding of how financing can scale solutions for sustainable development. This, she believes, complements her experience in stakeholder engagement, communications, and policy formulation — bringing together the tools she needs to mobilise the people, public, and private sectors towards climate action. |
| NATIONAL ENVIRONMENT AGENCY                    |                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| S/N                                            | Name and Age                                                                                                           | Course and University                                                                                                 | Profile                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 2                                                     | Yeo Shi Liang Shaun  | Public Administration (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore         | Shaun is a Senior Assistant Director in the Sanitation &amp; Compliance Division of NEA, where he oversees enforcement operations across hotspots and focus areas through the deployment of surveillance technology, enforcement officers, and close collaboration with local stakeholders. Through the Master's programme, he hopes to explore different approaches that can strengthen NEA's effectiveness and enhance service delivery to citizens, in line with his commitment to advancing NEA's vision and mission.                                                                                                   |

|   |                                                                                                          |                                                                                                                              |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 3 | Ng Yonglin       | Environmental Management (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore                                    | As Deputy Principal Engineer in the Waste Infrastructure Management Department of NEA, Yonglin oversees the operation of waste management facilities and regulates the Public-Private Partnership Waste-to-Energy (WTE) plants in delivering incineration services. Prior to his current role, he was involved in the development of the TuasOne Waste-to-Energy Plant and the Integrated Waste Management Facility. Yonglin will be pursuing a Master of Science in Environmental Management, which focuses on environmental science, engineering, economics, law, and corporate sustainability. He hopes that this programme will equip him with deeper capabilities in environmental sustainability and management, while enabling him to draw on the knowledge and experience of industry professionals to tackle sustainability challenges. |
| 4 | Chen Fuyi        | Public Administration (Master's Degree) Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore | Fuyi is a Deputy Director in the Chemical Control and Management Department of NEA, where he is responsible for overseeing the regulation of hazardous substances and toxic industrial waste, as well as ensuring Singapore's compliance with international obligations under the various Multilateral Environmental Agreements. Through the Master's programme, he aims to deepen his expertise in public policy and environmental governance and contribute to strengthening Singapore's regulatory frameworks and sustainable environmental outcomes.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| 5 | Tan Shengyang  | Sustainable and Green Finance (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore                               | As the Deputy Director of the Modelling and Instrumentation Department of NEA, Shengyang leads work in environmental monitoring, modelling and research to support Singapore's environmental management and policy outcomes. Over his 13 years career with NEA, he has worked across environmental policy, operations and technology-driven projects, including air and water quality monitoring, pollution modelling, and sustainability-related initiatives. Shengyang will be pursuing a Master's of Science in Sustainable and Green Finance. Shengyang hopes to deepen his understanding of sustainable finance and contribute to practical solutions that mobilise capital towards climate action, environmental resilience and Singapore's green transition.                                                                              |

|   |                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
|---|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 6 | Tan Guan Hong               | Data Science for Sustainability (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore | Guan Hong is an Assistant Project General Manager in NEA's Project Management, Civil and Structural Technical Team, where he is involved in the development of the Integrated Waste Management Facility, NEA's flagship waste management facility. Through his work, Guan Hong has developed an appreciation for data-driven approaches in addressing sustainability challenges. Through the Master's programme, Guan Hong hopes to hone his capabilities in data analytics and machine learning, complementing his experience in project management and cross-agency collaboration. He hopes to apply these skills to contribute more effectively to environmental and waste management efforts within NEA. |
| 7 | Ho Sze Siew                 | Environmental Management (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore        | Sze Siew is a Deputy Director in the Department of Sustainability Strategy at NEA, where she leads waste infrastructure planning, recycling initiatives, and sustainability reporting. She has worked on various projects, including waste infrastructure master planning, priority waste stream policy reviews and GreenGov resource tracking initiatives. Through the Master's programme, she hopes to deepen her expertise in sustainability management and equip herself with sharper analytical and policy perspectives to better navigate environmental challenges ahead.                                                                                                                              |
| 8 | Mohamed Farook Bin Ghani  | Infectious Disease Emergencies (Master's Degree) National University of Singapore  | Mohamed Farook is a Senior Assistant Director in the National Environment Agency (NEA), where he operationalises policies, audit frameworks, and enforcement strategies for the Environmental Sanitation Regime across various premises. He has also led contingency planning efforts for nationwide crises, including oil spill responses and infectious disease outbreak management during the COVID-19 pandemic and the 2024 Marine Honour oil spill cleanup. He seeks to deepen his expertise in infectious disease emergency preparedness to strengthen Singapore's readiness and response to future public health threats.                                                                      |

|   |                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
|---|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 9 | Kumaran S/O Tamilselvam  | International Nuclear and Radiation Safety (Master's Degree) Korea Institute of Nuclear Safety (KINS) and the Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (KAIST) | Kumaran is a Senior Scientific Officer in the Nuclear Planning and Strategy Department at The Radiation Protection &amp; Nuclear Science Group (RPNSG), where his portfolio includes emergency preparedness for nuclear and radiological incidents, strategic planning and international relations. Kumaran will be pursuing a Master's Degree in International Nuclear and Radiation Safety at the Korea Institute of Nuclear Safety (KINS) and the Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology (KAIST) through a joint collaboration programme. He hopes to be better equipped with the knowledge needed to support the safety assessment of nuclear energy technologies, both for domestic consideration as well as safeguarding Singapore's interests. |
|---|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

SINGAPORE FOOD AGENCY

| S/N | Name and Age                                                                                             | Course and University                                                            | Profile                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|-----|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 10  | Alex Ng Yu Zhe  | Food Safety (Master's Degree) Wageningen University &amp; Research | An Assistant Director in SFA's Supply Chain Resilience &amp; Contingency Management Division, Alex oversees the development and exercising of crisis response plans that strengthen SFA's resilience during emergencies. During incidents such as the Marine Honour oil spill in 2024, he coordinated multi-stakeholder responses as Operations Secretariat, whilst maintaining food safety protocols. Alex also served as the alternate lead for the development of SFA's Operations Centre, augmenting it with capabilities that contribute to strengthening food security in Singapore. Alex will be pursuing an International Master's Programme in Food Safety at Wageningen University and Research. The programme will equip him with the knowledge to analyse and manage food safety from both technical and legal perspectives, as well as deepen his understanding of food safety across the supply chain. These competencies will further strengthen SFA's ability to safeguard Singapore's food safety and security. |

|    |                                                                                                             |                                                                                                                                               |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|----|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 11 | Ann Wong Khee Onn   | Asian Studies(Master's Degree) S. Rajaratnam School ofInternationalStudies, NanyangTechnological University | Ann is a Deputy Director for Food Supply Operations Division working on food security and maintaining food supply contingency in SFA. Her experience in overseas food source accreditation and food stockpiling workstreams has shown her how events beyond Singapore's borders can directly impact the country's food security. She is pursuing further studies at S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies in Nanyang Technological University which will deepen her understanding of regional developments and geopolitics, and enable her to contribute more effectively to Singapore's long-term food security and resilience.                                                                                                                                  |
| 12 | Goh Zhu Hui Esther  | Food Safety(Master's Degree) Wageningen University&amp; Research                                                      | Esther is a Senior Scientist and her team oversees the Singapore Food Research &amp; Development Programme, under the Resource and Research Management Division. She works on advancing innovation to strengthen local food resilience. Her work involves leading stakeholder engagements across industry, academia and the government to push for innovation and shape strategic direction, while advancing innovation to bolster the nation's food resilience and safety. She will be pursuing a Master's in Food Safety at Wageningen University &amp; Research to deepen her expertise in food safety management and risk assessment, equipping her to better support Singapore's evolving food innovation ecosystem and SFA's mission of ensuring safe food for all. |
| 13 | Lim Yi-Lin                                                                                           | Public Administration(Master's Degree) Lee Kuan Yew School ofPublic Policy, NationalUniversity of Singapore      | Yi-Lin is a Director at the Local Production Strategy and Development Division, and her team's portfolio covers account management of farms, supermarket retailers, food services, and food manufacturer associations. She manages different stakeholders with the purpose of driving business development, easing regulatory hurdles, and shaping local production offtake strategies. Yi-Lin, believes that the LKYSPP Master in Public Administration program will                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |

|    |                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|----|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|    |                       |                                                                                                                | enhance her capacity to design robust frameworks to safeguard Singapore's food supply against global disruptions.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 14 | Sim Cong Shan  | Operations, Project &amp; Supply Chain Management (Master's Degree) The University of Manchester | As Assistant Director of SFA's Regional Office under the Regulatory Operations Division, Cong Shan oversees the planning of inspections and sampling at a wide range of SFA-licensed food establishments to ensure food safety and takes enforcement action against licensees who fail to comply with food safety legislation and regulations. In addition, he manages food safety related feedback and conducts investigations into gastroenteritis incidents. Cong Shan will be pursuing a Master's Degree in Operations, Project and Supply Chain Management at The University of Manchester where he will develop a deeper understanding of the complex systems and policies that underpin global and local food security. This knowledge will strengthen his existing technical expertise in food safety, equipping him with a broader, more holistic perspective to better anticipate risks, inform regulatory decisions, and contribute more effectively to safeguarding Singapore's food supply. |